SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD

(By Andrew Whitaker)

Christmas this year will be different for me from any Christmas up to now. Although papa didn't seem to care too much about Christmas (because it has become too commercialized I guess), he always managed, even during the depression, to have plenty of 'Santa Claus' for us kids. I know that everybody goes through the same thing, but, you don't notice it very much until it gets close to home.

According to Speck Davis, the court house will be closed all day Saturday, and Monday.

It seems the power company found what was causing all of that interference (on radio and tv) down in our neighborhood. It was a faulty meter. Reception has been exceptionally good since they found this nuisance.

Poor folks of Grenada County will get a lot of good groceries on Christmas, through the local VFW Club. They must have taken in a truck load of groceries at their annual Christmas party last Saturday night.

The VFW Auxiliary is to be commended for the fine meal they served to members and guests.

It looks to me like one cold wave cannot run its course, before another one is on its way!

It has been a slough of deaf-mutes in Grenada lately. All of them selling cards with the sign language printed on them.

Those quail I was hunting Sunday afternoon don't need any outside protection. I hunted hard, for 3 hours and the only birds I saw were black birds and field larks.

Carl "Tramp" Lantrip was sporting a mighty pretty diamond engagement ring around town last week. He this week announced his engagement by telling me that the Grenada girls had completely lost out, as he was now engaged to a girl in West Point, Miss. All I can say about this engagement is to wish them luck and hope that SHE has a good enough job to support BOTH of them . . . . .

In this issue our readers will find local items, weddings, and parties scattered throughout the paper. We endeavor to give you local happenings. We can give you more news if you will call Mrs. Whitaker, reporting your guests, parties, etc.

Louise Carpenter said that there were still mighty few fish being caught LEGALLY out at the spillway.

I have even been too busy to go fishing!

We learned Wednesday morning that the big country home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crenshaw near Scobey burned early Tuesday night. They saved nothing.

I feel sort of ashamed for not attending the big football banquet on Monday night, after Hugh Ketchum was nice enough to invite me and Mr. Well, I have been so busy this week that I clear forgot it. Thanks, anyway, Hugh.

Most of the business in Grenada will be closed Monday, December 26.

I am thinking about letting Mr. Austin off one day soon!

The Grenada banks will remain open until 2 Saturday afternoon for the convenience of Christmas shoppers.

Christmas time, now, seems to be a time (in many cases) when people spend money that they can't afford to spend, to buy presents for people that don't appreciate them!

I guess some of us will be paying for "Christmas" all the coming year.

Dear Santa: Please don't forget to bring Tom Neely those new dominoes.

I think that Sam Simmons will make the Grenada County Wildlife League a good, conscientious president.

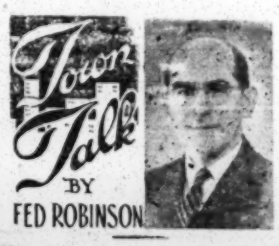
Believe it or not, today is the first day of winter!

To Observe 60th Wedding Anniversary

Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. J. S. "Watermelon" Hemphill who will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary during the Christmas holidays. Their wedding occurred on December 27, 1895. Mr. Hemphill is now 85 years of age and Mrs. Hemphill is 79.

They have 5 living children: A. L. and J. W. Hemphill of Grenada; Mrs. Fred Sulton, Coffee Springs, Mrs. T. J. Morman of Grenada and Mrs. W. M. Vent of Oklahoma City, Okla. 15 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

The reunion will take place during Christmas holidays.



Merry Christmas to Everyone Everywhere!

We hope your stocking and your heart will be filled with the right things, and we hope in the hurry scurry of the times we all shall not forget Him whose birthday it is. Lets recall the little story of the poor farm boy who worked all through the year and saved his pennies so that he could go see the big circus in the fall. On the day his father gave him a silver dollar and he trudged into town to see the great circus. As he arrived the parade was coming down the street and he nudged his way to the curb for a close look at all the painted wagons, animals, the band and the clowns and the boy was greatly excited about it all when a clown wanting to be friendly came up to him and extended his hand. The boy decided this was the time to pay over his dollar so he handed it to the clown. Soon the parade passed and the crowds disappeared, so the boy thought that was it and now he started the long walk back to his country home. It was several months later when he learned that he hadn't seen the circus at all, but only the parade which was actually free and that he had missed the main attraction - the worthwhile part of the show.

So, as we work ourselves into a frenzy preparing for Christmas let us remember the pretty things we buy and the pretty stores with beaming lights, and the glitter we see is merely the parade or the preliminary part of it all for the real meaning of Christmas is we are to remember Christ who came to live with us for a time in order to establish good will to all men and show us by example how to love one another as we prepare our hearts and souls for a life far better in the long eternity to come.

—4-H CLUB NEWS—
(By Ray McGee, Ass't Co. Agt.)

Now is the time for all 4-H Club boys, who plan to show livestock next spring, to start getting their animals ready.

There are many things to do but first you must break your calves by handling and spending time with them. This should be done along with good feeding program.

A calf on full feed composed of a well balanced ration will eat approximately 2 pounds of grain per day for each 100 pounds of live wright plus the protein meal.

If a home grown feed is used, a mixture of 40 percent corn, 40 percent oats, 10 percent wheat brand, and 10 percent protein meal could be used to an advantage. By using this feed, 2 pounds of gain could be expected per day.

If the cattle will not eat enough of the above mixture of feeds, variety and palatability may be increased by adding a little syrup. Don't add too much syrup because it seems to have a laxative effect when fed in large amounts.

The following steps should be followed in getting a calf ready for show. This should be done several times between now and show time, which will be the latter part of March.

1. Brush, removing all surface dirt, loose hair and scurf.
2. Wet calf thoroughly, using hose if available; avoid getting water in calf's ears.
3. Soap using any good quality mild soap; work up plenty of lather.
4. Scrub, using brush, and loosen all foreign material; work soap in well over all parts of the body. Wash switch carefully.
5. Rinse, using plenty of water. Remove all soap, check under surface and wrinkles carefully. Use mild creosote dip or white vinegar in last rinsing water.
6. Remove excess water, using back of scotch comb.
7. Line or wave the hair.
8. Brush hair upward; fluff switch.

It requires several washings to get skin and hair in good condition. The skin should be soft and pliant; hair, fluffy and glossy. After this condition is accomplished, rework by spraying lightly, lining and brushing. No amount of washing or grooming will take the place of feed and proper handling of your animals.

If you need help in feeding and handling your calves, feel free to call on Ray McGee, Ass't County Agt. at any time. Let's have the calves ready to show by starting now. Remember a calf not properly fed and fitted will not win; it takes feed, time, and quality to win.

Homes open on this occasion were those of Mrs Mrs L. J. Doak and Mrs. W. E Jackson on South Street. Misses Cuff on Second Street and Mrs. J. B Perry Sr. on Main Street and Mrs. J. H. Oliver on Third Street.

Eacn one featured a special project of Christmas decoration.

At the home of Mrs. L. J. Doak the dining table was arranged for the serving of Christmas dinner. The floral centerpiece of red carnations and Christmas novelties added the right touch of loveliness to the gold band China. Artistic metallic fans, flanked by colorful Christmas balls, placed on mirrors adorned the buffet and service table. Mrs. Albert George served punch.

The handsome home of Mrs. W. E. Jackson was a perfect setting for viewing charmingly arranged decorations Her guests entered through the arched doorway which is outlined by red poinsettas, a Christmas wreath on the door, and flanked by two minature trees, and then into the reception hall and living room where gold tinted pine, red camilles in brass candelabra and a choir boys and Madonna cut out tabeleau added to the attractiveness of the scene. A large arrangement of red carnations graced one of the occasional tables.

Red carnations were also used in the white and silver motif emphasized in the dining room.

The Cuff home which was third on tour, featured a greenery and colored lights outlined picture window which was further decorated with a row of electric candles and a gay wreath. This main attraction was also beautifully decorated with additional greenery and lighted candles. Here the group sang Christmas carols Mrs. John Griffis Hardy was accompanist.

The home of Mrs. J. H Oliver featured a white and glittering Christmas tree, white carnations, white tapers and angels which, truly, added a note of "Winter Wonderland" and was greatly admired by all. Here the members exchanged gifts.

"An Old Fashioned Christmas" was the theme of the program at Mrs. J B. Perry Sr.'s home.

Native greenery and red candles were used lavishly in the dining room. The table held an arrangement of Southern smilax, a silver bowl and red carnations.

Mrs. O. R. Lilly, Sr. poured coffee, and Christmas cookies, sandwiches and salted nuts were served. The buffet held a beautiful arrangement of fruit and featured red candles in silver.

Mrs. Beach and Mrs. Lewis welcomed members at the door inviting them into the living room. The mantle beautifully signified the season with gold leaves and candles, and Merry Christmas bells. On the dining room table was an impressive scene of the Nativity.

Thirty members attended. Mrs. Wilkins, Vice Regent, presided and led the group in the DAR Ritual and the American Creed. Mrs. A. L. O'Briant led in prayer.

Mrs. Wilkins announced dates for the State Convention to be held February 27, 28 and 29 at the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson. Reports of various committees were given.

Mrs. C. H. Calhoon brought Christmas greetings from the DAR President General's message.

"This is Christmas", an inspiring and beautiful program was given by Mrs. Beach. First, was a story in which Joseph the carpenter speaks: "I would like to tell you of my son, yet He really was not my son."

Later Mrs. Beach asked, "What is Christmas?" Is it stockings hung by the chimney? Yes, but that's not all Then, what is Christmas? Is it gifts under the tree? Yes, but that's not all. What is Christmas? Is it the warm hand clasp of friends? Yes but that's not all. Christmas is acceptance of Christ in the hearts of men as their savior.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious dessert course was served by the hostesses.

Miss Margaret Pate Becomes Bride Of Willie Cooper

In a service of dignity and beauty Saturday, December 17, Miss Margaret Pate, daughter of Mrs A. S. Pate and the late Mr. Pate, became the bride of Willie Harold Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cooper of Gore Springs. The sacred double-ring rites at four o'clock at the First Methodist Church were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Felix Sutphin.

Soft taperlight from branched candelabra and white gladis in stately princess baskets formed the setting for the ceremony. The couple exchanged vows beneath an archway entwined with greenery.

As a prelude, Miss Sandra Matthews, organist, played a medley of nuptial music and accompanied Miss Betty Martin who sang "Til The End of Time" and "Because". The Rev Sutphin sang "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Gene Brister, Jr., who also played the Recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, the Rev. Dr. Thomas A. Carruth of Nashville, wore a street length dress of ice blue brocaded satin fashioned along princess lines. The short fitted jacket was buttoned to the neck with rhinestones. Her white satin hat was accented with rhinestones and pearls and had a nose-length veil. She carried a white Bible topped by an orchid with cascading streamers.

Mrs. F. R. Metcalf of Itta Bena was matron of honor wearing a two-piece beige faille with matching accessories. The bride's sister, Miss Mildred Pate, served as maid of honor Her two-piece frock was of beige silk shantung with which she wore a winter white hat Each of the attendants carried a hand bouquet of white carnations with maline puffs and satin streamers.

Carl Cooper attended his brother as best man and ushers were Leroy Turner, Edwin Orr, Walter McCool and Thomas James of Gore Springs

For the occasion of her son's wedding, Mrs. Cooper was attired in navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a brief wedding trip to New Orleans, after which the bride will resume her duties at Grenada Industries and Mr. Cooper will continue his studies at the University of Mississippi Medical School.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Metclaf of Itta Bena entertained with a rehearsal dinner in the Plantation Room at Hotel Barwin.

The bride-elect, wearing a becoming black velvet skirt with white jewelled sweater and a corsage of silver bells, chose this occasion to present gifts to her attendants. Her gift from the host and hostess was a lovely coffee table.

The table was beautifully decorated with silver leaves, minature pink Christmas trees and silver tapers

Included with Miss Pate and Mr Cooper were the Rev. and Mrs. Felix Sutphin, Mrs. R. F Matthews, Jr., Miss Sandra Matthews Miss Mildred Pate, Miss Betty Martin, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Moore of Oxford, Leroy Turner, Walter McCool, Gene Brister, Jr., Mrs. Carl Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas James.

At 9:30 p. m. following the rehearsal dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lang graciously entertained at the Country Club with a private party honoring the wedding party and invited guests.

The club ballroom was decorated with silver bells, the traditional lighted Christmas tree, and featured minature choir boys.

Party snacks and Cokes were served and dancing was enjoyed by the guests during the evening.

Mrs Elizabeth Trout Spencer and Mrs Margaret Frazier of Memphis were Grenada visitors last Sunday They came to place a wreath on the grave of Rev. Trout who was Rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church about 1914. They were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Weir.

IMPORTANT ASSIGNMENT

20TH CENTURY CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM MEETING

The First Methodist Church in Grenada was the scene of the Christmas program of Sacred Music Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Vivian Page, music and voice instructor at Grenada High School presenting Glee Club members in group singing. The occasion was the regular meeting of the Twentieth Century Club the only study club, and one of the oldest in Grenada. The hostesses were Mesdames J. C. Hathorn, Junius Townes, Jr., E. L. Marders Felix Sutphin, Spivey Kent, Marie Davis.

On program for "The Club Rejoices" was Mrs Cowles Horton, Sr., who eloquently gave, in verse, a Christmas Story of rejoicing. Mrs. J. C. Hathorn was on program for song arrangement.

Each member was privileged to invite 3 guests. Approximately 70 ladies were present. Mrs. John Keeton welcomed the guests and after the program thanked the Glee Club and Mrs. Page for the beautiful and inspiring program.

The social half-hour was staged in the large dining hall of the church. Here the entire room was aglow with Christmas greenery, lights and a most beautifully arranged tea table. Mrs. Sutphin served coffee at one end of the table and Mrs. Townes at the other. The table centerpiece was an elaborate bedecked lighted candle of mammoth proportion encircled with pearls and pastel hued beads. This was placed atop a beautiful design cut from metalic paper and each panel was outlined with beads. Trays held delicious cookies, and comports held pink and white mints and salted nuts. Napkins were red and green

This indeed was an outstanding event of the Christmas season and all present enjoyed it.

Christmas Day; Celebration of Holy Communion at 9:30 a. m.

The following is the Christmas letter sent to the members of All Saints' Episcopal Church by their Rector:

Dear Members of All Saints' Church:

Once again our dear Lord Christ calls us to come to Him at His Altar and keep with Him the joyful Feast of His Birth on Christmas Day.

Like the Shepherds on the hills of Bethlehem we have seen "the glory of the Lord", and we shall go with them to kneel in worship at the Church's true Bethlehem—the Blessed Sacrament.

Like the Wise Men we have seen His Star and shall follow it to where He lies "in great humility", there to offer Him our gifts—so precious to Him—of love and adoration and devotion, and to receive from Him His Body and Blood—Himself—in our Christmas' Communion.

How much the world needs Him! How much we need Him.

He is the one solution of the world's problems; the one guarantee and means of true Peace. Peace between nation and nation; peace between man and man; peace between the soul of man and God;—that "peace of God which passeth all understanding."

His hands are full of blessings for those who will receive Him. In weakness—He is our Strength; in poverty—He is our Wealth; in suffering He is our Consolation; in darkness He is our Light. For all and each of us He is the Way and the Truth and the Life.

Poor indeed and miserable are they who have "no room for Him;" of Whom it must be said: "He came unto His own, and His own received Him not."

Rich and happy beyond this world's dreams are they who love Him; for in Him they "possess all things".

Sincerely your friend and Priest.

Christmas Songs

Lesson for December 25, 1955

Dr. Foreman

DID the angels sing when Christ was born? Some prosaic and unimaginative people say they didn't. True enough, Luke never says there was music. All he says is that the "multitude of the heavenly host" (he does not even say they were angels) were praising God and "saying, Glory to God in the highest . . ." Surely Christian art and Christian story is not wrong in thinking of this as song, not mere recitation or speech-making. At any rate, if the angels did not sing such words, the church has sung them. All down through the Christian centuries Christmas has been a singing time. You cannot suggest all that Christmas means in simple spoken prose; you have to sing.

Beauty in a Jangled World

Luke, who had an ear for such things, put into his gospel not less than four poems connected with the birth of Christ. Of these the "Glory in the highest" is the shortest. The others are the words of Mary (Luke 1:47-55), of Zachariah (1:67-79) and of Simeon (chap. 2:29-32). In the R.S.V. these are printed as poetry, as they really are. (The reader will note other poetic passages, but these are the four most famous ones.) The church has set all these to music many times over, and in some churches they are sung every week. Mary's song like the others has been given a Latin name, from their first words in the Latin Bible: "Magnificat" for Mary's song, "Benedictus" for Zechariah's, "Gloria in excelsis" for the angels', and "Nunc Dimittis" for Simeon's. But modern church-goers do not always realize that each of these poems was called forth in some way by the birth of Jesus. This is as it should be. What poetry is to language and to sound, the coming of Christ is to this world of humanity. In the midst of all the jangling, wrangling, maddening and often meaningless noises of the world, in the midst of all the stupid ordinary soon-forgotten outpouring of talk, talk, talk, a lovely poem comes bringing beauty and meaning, like a rose in a junk-yard. So in the midst of our jangling world Christ comes bringing meaning and joy and peace

Some Will Not Listen

To some—to too many—Christmas means nothing. "Silent Night" is a tune to be tired of, nothing more. The angels might as well never have sung, the Story never written. Readers of TIME magazine will recall an article last July 18 about a writer who is typical of many men and women in these times. He knows there is such a thing as the way of Love, for every cross on every church proclaims it, and every Christmas carol sings it. But he will not accept it. He chooses the way of defiance and despair. To him, life is a wandering in the dark, with nothing but his own candle which will soon go out.

But Some Have Heard

On the other hand there are many, and among them some of mankind's best, who have found in the Christian faith something more than merely a story, a lovely legend, a song for little children, something which it would be pleasant, but impossible, to believe. A good book to get for the new year is one called "This I Believe about Jesus Christ" (edited by J. C. Monsma; Revell & Co., New York). It is a collection of testimonies to Jesus Christ, by an impressive variety of men and women. College presidents, executives of great business firms, scientists, politicians, persons in many walks of life, all write on the same theme, what Christ has meant to them. Any one who thinks that Christianity is a religion only for weak characters ought to read this book. Any one who thinks that Christ is attractive only to children, might well read this book and learn better. The writers by their testimonies show that not alone for ancient and legend-loving times, not only for simple peasants in primitive lands, but for modern men, hard-headed, highly educated, burdened with great responsibilities, Christ brings meaning and beauty as well as power. Strong voices in every land join the heavenly host in praise to God who has given us his Son.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

RECIPE . . . . FOR A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Take the crisp cold of a December night, add two generous parts of snow, stir in air so clear it tinkles.

Into a generous heart, mix the wonder of a little girl, the sparkle of a young boy's glance, the love of parents and set gently by the chimney side.

Add the lightest touch of a reindeer's hoofs, a sprig of holly, a scent of fir.

Set the mixture to rise in the warmth of a dream of good will to men. It will be almost ready to serve when it bubbles with warmth and good feeling.

Garnish with shining balls of gold, silver and red. Serve to the tune of an ancient carol in the middle of the family table.

This recipe is sufficient for all the men and women you will ever meet. ——With best wishes for a Merry Christmas.

Instructions to an artist for painting a Christmas picture

The fathers do not know one another. One is a railroad engineer; the other a trailer-truck driver. They work for rival industries. But they don't look like rivals in your picture. They are just two men enjoying their children at Christmas time, proud that they can earn enough to give their youngsters a fine holiday.

Both men, like their industries, have the same basic objectives in life—to earn a living by doing useful work. Yet they are competitors, and that is good.

Right now there are bills before Congress to permit more competition between rail, highway and water carriers. The truckers are afraid this competition may hurt them. This is nonsense. Trucks have proved their value. Competition may make them work harder, just as it makes us work harder—but all of us, including you, will be better for it.

At Christmas, as all through the year, the Illinois Central wishes the best of everything to all the people of Mid-America, including its competitors. May all of us be thankful for the privilege of living in a land where rivals can work side-by-side in peace and good will.
